a fine and perfect copy of this extremely rare book, so interesting in its connection with the early history of the art of Engraving. The prints, by Baldini, are in beautiful condition, being impressions taken before the plates were at all worn. The title-page and the initial letters are illuminated by a contemporary limner. "Volume très rare, et recherché parce qu'il est le premier livre connu où l'on trouve des planches en taille-douce."—Brunet Manuel du Libraire.

Ottley, vol. I, p. 374, et seq. gives a full and detailed account of this remarkable book, which is so rare that it has seldom if ever occurred in a public sale. It contains three prints, two of which are nearly the full size of the page, $9\frac{1}{8}$ inches high by 7 inches wide.

- I. The first represents a steep and rocky mountain, on the summit of which is the figure of Christ in Glory, surrounded by cherubs. From the middle of the print, at bottom, a ladder rises to the top of the mount, which a good friar is represented as beginning to ascend. The steps of the ladder are named after the Christian virtues. On the right is a figure of Christ on the Cross, and on the left is the figure of a young man, richly dressed, looking towards Heaven, and exclaiming, "LEVAVI OCULOS MEOS I MONTES," &c.
- II. The second represents a majestic figure of Christ standing in a glory of flames, and surrounded by angels and cherubs, $10\frac{1}{4}$ inches by 7 inches.
- III. The third is a representation of HELL, and is smaller than the other two, being $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches in width by $4\frac{3}{4}$ in height. In the centre is the figure of Lucifer, surrounded by the damned, who suffer various punishments.

PEREGRINI. with DE. added on the left, and CES^s on the right, supposed to mean De Cesis or De Cesaribus. Of this print Zani (Enc. Met. ix. p. 2, 37) mentions a first impression with the inscription OPVS. PEREGRIN. only, but does not state where he saw it. The second he describes as being in the Durazzo Collection, with three other nielli by the same artist, though it is not mentioned by Bartsch among the copies of nielli in that cabinet. Another impression is in the Bibliothèque at Paris, in a finished state as to the background, which is not so much worked upon in the one just described, but the inscription is the same in both. This niello, important from its size and the name of the artist, is given in facsimile by M. Duchesne (No. 122), who describes Sir M. Sykes's impression as a first state. The present specimen belonged to Mr. Wilson's Collection (No. 39) and is from the Storek and Sykes Collections (No. 1115), and also from Dr. Wellesley's added in various parts, and this is especially remarked in the outlines of the figures. Upon comparison with the second state, these outlines will be found to be much harder and heavier in the latter than in the print before us; and a slip of the graver will also be observed, in the former, to run from the thigh of Adam, which cannot be found in the latter. This is the principal difference; but, on a careful inspection, similar changes appear all over the plate. Although light and delicate in outline, this impression is very rich and full of bur in the shadows.

	 The present impression of this rare and beautiful print is believed to be almost unique, having been printed in a very early state of the plate. Much work was subsequently
